Donation Plan for Development Fund Explained by President Halsey

Stating that he hoped no student will feel that he is being forced to contribute, President Halsey recently clarified the plan for students desiring to pledge a portion of their $25 acceptance deposits to the University Development Fund.

In a memorandum to Reigh Carpenter, chairman of the Student Committee for the Development Fund, President Halsey stated: "It is to be understood that students who make pledges in this manner (deduction of the amount pledged from deposit fees now held by the Bursar's Office) will not be asked to repay or redeposit the amount of their pledge in order to bring their $25 deposit up to the full figure.

Unusual Offer

"You will understand that this is a most exceptional arrangement which has not been made previously and which will probably never be made again. It is being made

"Craig's Wife" Acclaimed Success By Capacity Crowd

Presented before a near capacity audience Saturday night at the Klein, "Craig's Wife," George Kelly's Pulitzer Prize-winning drama, was enthusiastically received. Nancy Fray played the title role of the selfish wife whose chief interest was her home and self-security.

Mrs. Harriet Craig completely dominated her husband, Walter, portrayed by Frank Driscoll, as she did everyone with whom she had contact. The entire action of the play centered in the living room of the Craig's fashionable home.

Intense Personality

The room reflected the personality and habits of Harriet Craig. It was a home to be admired, but lacked love and comfort as Walter realized after two years of marriage. The latter part of the second act was outstanding in that Walter was brought to the realizaat this time upon the vigorous recommendation of yourself and your committee."

President Halsey especially emphasized the fact that the donation plan suggestions came from the students themselves and were not sponsored by the faculty or the administration.

Dean Tillett To Resign This Year

Dean Boone D. Tillett, who returned this week after a serious illness, has tendered his resignation to be effective at the end of this semester, President Halsey has announced.

Dean Tillett has requested that he be relieved of his responsibilities as head of the College of Business Administration, explaining that his illness has kept him out of touch with university matters since the middle of December.

However, Dean Tillett has consented to assist the president in matters concerning the Development Fund.

The direction of the college will continue under Dr. Eaton V. W. Read, who will carry the title of acting head of the College of Business Administration.

Referendum And Council Report To Highlight UB Government Week

The Student Council will make its first official report to the student body at an all-University assembly, March 16, at the Klein Memorial. John J. Cox, Council president, has announced.

The group will gather at 5:45 and adjournment will be at 8:00 p. m. so as not to conflict with other plans that anybody may have.

Invitations have been extended to department chairmen, to the sponsor of each class, and to members of the faculty and staff who are members of one or more of the following honorary scholastic fraternities: Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, Phi Theta Kappa.

All Classes Honored

The assembly will highlight "Student Government Week," March 18. During the week, a student referendum will be conducted to determine the student body preference regarding the proposed Season Activities Ticket plan.

At the assembly, the Student Council will present its first annual report on its activities and accomplishments. Mr. Cox will preside at the meeting.

Speakers will include John Saccone, who will give the National Student Association report; Edward Flynn, the Development Fund report; Reigh Carpenter, the progress of the Season Activities Ticket proposal; Huntley Perry, the Student Ethics Committee's work, and Martin Ryan, the proposed athletic association progress.

A mimeographed summary of minor Student Council activities will be distributed at the assembly.

Council members Thomas McGannon, Betty Smith, and Greta Anderson are planning Student Government Week activities.

Evening Division Plans Barn Dance

The Evening School Social Activities Committee announced recently plans for an all Evening School Barn Dance to be held on Friday, March 25, at the Hillside Volunteer Fire House, from 8:30 p. m. to 12:30 a. m. Walter Finger and his orchestra will play and call for the event. Admission will be fifty cents per person, which will include refreshments.

All evening students are urged to attend and to bring their friends, so as to make this second event planned by the Evening Social Activities Committee a success.

Scribe Editorship Wide Open; Anyone May Apply For The Job

How would you like to become editor of The Scribe? If you would, and you have the necessary qualifications, there is an excellent chance that you may obtain your wish, according to an announcement made this week by members of The Scribe Advisory Board.

James Gaffney, Student Council representative to the Board this week urged all students interested in working on The Scribe in the fall to apply for the editor's position. He pointed out that should a student fail to receive election to the editorship, there would still be a good chance for him to land one of the three other salaried editorial positions which will be vacated in May by graduations and resignations.

Jim Dlugos plans to resign as editor in May despite the fact that he will return to UB for his senior year in the fall.

Jerry Lawlor and Mae Wood, managing editor and evening editor respectively, are both seniors and will graduate in May. Lee Broadwin, holder of the other paid position, (make-up editor) will remain with the staff according to his present plans.

In making the announcement, Gaffney said, "I believe that the position of editor of The Scribe should be open to all qualified students on the UB campus. Anyone who feels that he or another student might be qualified to fill the position should feel perfectly free to write a letter of application or nomination. We will give equal consideration to every letter received."

Board of Editors Will Elect

Members of The Scribe Board of Editors will elect the new editor on or about March 25 from a list of students considered best qualified for the position by the Advisory Board. Applications or nominations should be in the mail, addressed to James

Incidentally Speaking . . .

—By JIM DLUGOS

Every so often a group of students will band together and stampede into their dean's office to issue a strong protest against their professor. As this is a natural, normal, and healthy tendency, it certainly should not be discouraged by either the college administration or by the instructor involved.

What we should strive for, however, is to have these rather unpleasant situations arise less frequently. Now I realize that many obstacles prevent the complete removal of student-faculty friction. But if both factions, in this instance, the individual class and its instructor, try their best, the trials and tribulations of both can be lessened considerably.

Toward that end, then, the following suggestions for classroom behavior are submitted. There are two lists; one a guide for the instructor and the other a guide for the student. Read them, study them, try to follow them. See if your academic life here at UB doesn't become more livable, more interesting and more enjoyable.

For the Faculty:

1. Never be unfair because of personal attitude—either your attitude or that of the student.
2. Have a lecture prepared, thought through on a college level, for every class you must teach.
3. Ask questions that challenge the student rather than bore him, if you consider throwing questions at your students a good method of teaching.
4. Always be impartial in class discussions.
5. Throw out a new joke now and then—if for no better reason than to prove to your class that you're not "a thing of the past."
6. Realize that each student has five or six other subjects besides yours, and make your assignments accordingly.
7. Begin your class on time; dismiss it on time. This is extremely important on the UB campus.
8. Never use profanity in the classroom. It shows lack of vocabulary as well as bad manners.
9. Be neat and clean in your personal appearance.
10. Do more than present the subject matter to your students. Prove to them that your particular subject can be interesting to study.
11. Never bring your personal problems into the classroom. If your domestic or business problems are so great that you can't pass a smile once or twice during a lecture, take a day off to straighten them out.
12. Be sympathetic both inside and outside the classroom.
13. Never lose the common touch; when that's lost so also is lost the respect your students may have had for you.
14. Make friends with the students. It's a proven fact that a person will learn more from a friend than from someone for whom he has no use.
15. Find out what your students think about you the harmless way—give them the opportunity to fill out the faculty evaluation forms distributed by the University.

For the Students:

1. Always get to class on time. Arrival there a few minutes early is no disgrace.
2. Be neat and clean in your personal appearance.
3. Attempt to be attentive and courteous in class, even when the subject seems a little dull to you.
4. Have your assignment prepared every day.
5. Refrain from conducting private correspondence and conversations in class.
6. Never close your eyes, drop your head or fall asleep in class.

Question: Do you feel that the proceeds from the 1949 Circus Dance should go to the Student Development fund ($3,000 goal set by the students) or to the Crippled Children's Workshop, as was done last year? Why?

Bob Downey, Liberal Arts Sophomore: I believe that the money should go to the Crippled Children's Workshop because they do need every possible contribution. It is truly a worthy cause which we should support, the benefits being unlimited, whereas the development fund is for a profit institution.

Ethel Power, Liberal Arts Junior: Half and Half.

John T. Kelly, Liberal Arts Junior: The entire proceeds from the Circus Dance should be turned over to the Crippled Children's Workshop. In aiding this most deserving institution, we are assisting in the development and rehabilitation of children less fortunate than ourselves. In addition we are fostering a community spirit that can be of great benefit to the University.

Ray Rice, Liberal Arts Junior: The proceeds should be used for a charitable purpose only. I think that the goodness that this money creates, should be easily discernable to all students so that they can have a feeling of self satisfaction and pride in supporting this project and actually see that their money is being used for a charitable purpose.

Charles Milone, Business Administration Senior: Progress is built on a solid foundation. Therefore, we must rehabilitate what we have before we build for the future.

Robert Menze, Business Administration Junior: I think it should be given to the Crippled Children's Workshop. It will spread good will that would be beneficial to the school and it will be going to a deserving organization.

Joseph Kazal, Engineering Junior: The proceeds from the Circus Dance should be given to both the development fund and the Crippled Children's Workshop on a 50-50 basis. By dividing the proceeds, the Circus Dance committee will have two major reasons for which to strive toward making the dance a success.

Ed Note:

This question was phrased and the answers were solicited before the Social Activities Committee set-up its current program for the distribution of the profits from the dance.

tion that he had been a "fool" and he rebelled against Harriet's wishes much to the delight of the audience.

Mrs. Harold and Billy Birkmire, played by Mary Pirrello and John Sheehan respectively, conveyed humor to this satire on human nature.

Members of the supporting cast included: Pat Kelly as Maize; Harriet Olaniff, as Ethel Landreth; Merilu Elliot, as Mrs. Frazier; Morris C. Moskalenko, as Joseph Catelle; Ulrich Von Ziegesar, as Eugene Fredericks, and Harold Noyes, as Harry.

Miss Austin, Walter Craig's aunt, played by Lois McMellon, summarized the theme of "Craig's Wife" when she said to Mrs. Craig, "People who live to themselves, Harriet, are generally left to themselves."

"WELL, WELL— THE SHINING KNIGHT IN WHITE ARMOR, THE GAY LOTHARIO FROM THE WEST, THE BEAU BRUMMEL OF PARK AVENUE—COME IN, JERK!"

INCIDENTALLY SPEAKING

7. Put forth a special effort before expecting a special grade.
8. Protest injustices to the instructor courteously, in order that he may remedy them, rather than complain impotently to your roommate and the world at large.
9. Study each subject regularly rather than "cram" for each test as it comes along.
10. If you're asked a question, answer it as though you were in your effective speech class—make it clear, concise, to the point and intelligent.
11. Sleep well during the school week.
12. Always be courteous in addressing a professor in class or in public. Speak to them when you meet them on the campus or in the city.
13. Take your lectures for what they are worth rather than analyze them for their good and bad points.
14. If the instructor cracks a joke, laugh; it won't hurt you, but it might be just the medicine he needs to give him a new lease on life.
15. Never prepare to leave the classroom until the instructor gives you the sign.

Rice to Head Social Committee, Circus Dance Planned for April 1st

Raymond Rice was elected chairman of the Social Activities Committee, to succeed Samuel Hoxter, it has been announced by Mrs. Mary Johnson, director of social activities. Ray is a Junior in the Business Administration College and comes from Waterbury. He is also a member of the Ski Club.

The Social Activities Committee recently announced that the second annual Circus Dance will take place April 1, at the Ritz Ballroom. Cooperation between various school organizations is necessary to make the dance a total success, Mrs. Johnson said.

The purpose of the Circus Dance is to raise funds for a local charity, and, at the same time, provide good entertainment for the student body.

Each school club, fraternity, or dormitory is being asked to enter some form of entertainment or exhibit for the event. Because some plans entail monetary expense for the cost of materials or costumes, the Social Activities Committee will allot ten dollars for each booth or exhibit entered.

Chairman Rice has asked all groups on campus to submit suggestions for exhibits to the Social Activities Office, Howland Hall, by Friday.

Members of the Circus Dance committee include Joseph Biafore, chairman; Barbara Gluck, hostess, and Bob Downey, tickets.

In a statement issued to the Scribe Monday, President James H. Halsey cautioned all faculty members and students to be "constantly eternal, and vigorously alert to the possibility of fire, especially in view of the recent disaster at Kenyon College." Mr. Halsey solemnly concluded his warning with the words "There is danger . . . Be careful."

NSA Offers Program For Summer Travel Abroad

Students interested in traveling abroad this summer can do so through the "Summer Study, Travel, and Work Opportunities Abroad," program sponsored by the NSA's international projects committee. Under this program, ten study tour and five workcamp opportunities are offered to UB students.

All study tours sponsored by the NSA will be conducted by the students of the countries to be visited. Accommodations will be in student dormitories, the homes of students, or in low-priced hotels where necessary; meals will be served in mess halls or student cafeterias. In all cases, the traveling and study groups will be small, including from ten to twenty Americans. Costs range from $450-$600 and in all cases cover transatlantic shipboard fare, housing, food and all travel costs; expenses of free-time periods are not included, and all participants are urged to bring pocket money for personal purchases.

Heavy Work

The work done in student workcamps is heavy manual labor. The students get their lodging, food and pocket money during the stay in camp. They are on their own, however, once they leave the camp and some guarantee must be given that the students will remain in the camp for the full period for which they signed up. The camps are conducted by fellow-students from the country where the camp is held. The cost includes transportation fees to and from the camp. These fees average around $300.

The camps open to male students are lumber camps in Finland, Harvest camps in Holland and Britain, and reconstruction camps in Holland and Germany. Opportunities for work in Harvest camps in Holland, Finland, and Britain are open to female students. The deadline for applications for these tours is March 15. Any students interested in this program should contact either David Zimmer, James Gaffney, or Benjamin Raubvogel at the Student Government office in Howland Hall.

Donation Plan For Development

The various clubs and groups on campus will assist Mr. Carpenter's committee in obtaining the donation plan pledges. In a letter to the officers of all student organizations on Monday, President Halsey said:

"Please consider this a most cordial, sincere and personal invitation to attend a special meeting which will be held at 8 p. m. on March 24, in the Fones Lecture Hall.

States Purposes

"The purpose of this meeting is to acquaint you student leaders with the program of the University of Bridgeport Development Fund, to clarify for you the immediate and long-range objectives of our Development Fund, and to ask your participation on behalf of your various groups in the Development Fund.

"I know that the Student Committee which has been working on this project has already done a great amount of preliminary work and it is my honest hope that at this meeting some of the groups and organizations will already be in a position to announce the manner and extent to which their groups will be able to participate in this program.

Rally and Social

"The meeting on the evening of March 24 will be in the nature of a rally and social affair. After a few minutes of explanation and discussion in the Annex, we shall all adjourn to the Snack Bar for refreshment and recreation, and the University itself will be the host on this occasion.

"I sincerely hope that you and everyone of the other officers of your organization will be able to attend this important meeting. If, for some unavoidable reason, none of your officers will be able to be present, I hope that each of you will deputize someone else to attend in your place.

"If in the meantime you have any questions regarding this matter, I trust you will not hesitate to raise them with me or with any member of the Student Committee which includes Leigh Carpenter, James Gaffney, Jackie Keefe, Betty Smith, Norma Kelly, Thomas McGannon, Robert Donaldson, and Edward Flynn.

The new young band sensation Al Lombardy and his orchestra, make a return visit this Sunday to the Ritz ballroom. The smartly styled music reminiscent of the late Glen Miller orchestra has been much in demand since the band's debut at the Ritz last December. Al Lombardy, after several years under the wing of Glen Miller, emerges today as the outstanding young bandleader providing everything in the way of musical entertainment for dancing America.

Sparked by Al's clarinet and a library of distinctive original arrangements the orchestra features the lovely Lorraine Kay and handsome Joe Derise in the vocal department.

New Appointments Are Announced by Department Heads

The appointment of Miss Dorothy Gladwin, R. N., as assistant instructor of nursing, and Mr. Chung-Ming Wong, as an instructor in engineering, was announced last week.

Miss Martha Jayne, dean of the College of Nursing, said that Miss Gladwin has been on the nursing staff at the Bridgeport Hospital since January. She explained that Miss Gladwin will begin teaching at the University in May, and will prepare nursing students for their professional training at the hospital during the summer months.

A native of West Hartford, Miss Gladwin received her B. S. degree from the University of Connecticut and has worked in the Veterans' Hospital, Newington, Conn.

Native of China

Mr. John Bodnar, acting director of the division of engineering, said that Mr. Wong's appointment to teach courses in thermodynamics and power plant engineering makes a total of 11 instructors now teaching in the engineering division.

A native of Hong Kong, China, Mr. Wong was awarded a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Sun Yat-Sen University, Canton, ranking first in his graduating class, and was appointed instructor in mechanical engineering courses at the university for three years.

Mr. Wong received a master's degree from Purdue University and is presently working for his doctor's degree at Harvard. He has also done work-study work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and has been associated with the General Electric company as a testing engineer.

Has anyone ever stopped in at Marina and seen the coats that are hung on the imaginary coatracks that were promised last semester?

UB Bows To Bergen and Fairfield U

YWCA Girls' Score Over UB Players In 24-17 Defeat

Taking the lead midway of the second period, the YWCA girls basketball team hung on in the face of furious last half drive by the UB women's team, to defeat the locals, 24-17, on the "Y" court, registered 10 points, the ultimate Sparked by Effie Zieckas, who winners, after enjoying a 15-9 advantage at the intermission, were able to withstand the Purple and White chargers who came on during the third session, but then faltered in the final eight minutes.

Leading scorer for UB was Rose Demirjian who also collected 10 markers. The local squad is composed of Toni Salucci, Jean Giraul, Joan Hutchinson, Kay DeWitt, Thora Carr, Marjorie Cicero, Jean Klose, Catherine Ruskay, and Phoebe Warshaw.

Kappa Beta Rho, Parkwoods, Vie For Intramural Championship

Kappa Beta Rho and the Parkwoods, winners of the Fraternity and Dormitory basketball titles, will meet in the feature game of this week's IM championship schedule on Saturday night at the Armory. The encounter, listed as part of a hoop double-header, will bring together two clubs who went undefeated throughout regular season play.

Sports director Tony Iannone announced that following the twin-bill trophies will be presented to the bowling and basketball champions and to the high individual scorers in both sports. Starting time for the opening game is 7:00. The feature contest is slated for 8:00 with dancing following.

The concluding week of the winter IM sports program got under way Monday when Park Hall and Sigma Phi Alpha "3" met in their play-off to determine who will face Beta Alpha, "frat" bowling champs, in the final match today. Park and SPA "3" finished in a tie for the dormitory crown with 16-5 marks.

Two games back in third place were the Schemers with Calvert and Waldemere Halls deadlocked for fourth. Trailing the field were SPA "2", West Hall, and the Seaside.

Beta Alpha after pulling way out in front in the early stages of the race just managed to stave off a late rush by SPA "1" to capture their flag. The two quintets finished only one game apart with third place Alpha Delta Omega four lengths further back. The second division was composed of KBR, Theta Sigma, Delta Epsilon Beta, Alpha Gamma Phi, and Pi Omega Chi.

The dormitory basketball pennant was not decided until the final week when the Parkwoods whipped Park Hall to clinch the crown. The winner's margin was one game over second place Calvert Hall, who also nipped Park in their final game to move into the runner-up spot.

Close Race

An indication of the closeness of the race was the fact that the first six teams were only six games apart. Fourth place Waldemere was a game back of Park and one ahead of the Giants who in turn finished one up on West Hall. Rounding out the circuit were the Stratford Comets, Norwalk Hot Rods, Marina Hall, and the Playboys.

In sharp contrast to the fight the Parkwoods had was the breeze enjoyed by KBR. They were never seriously threatened, winning by two full games over SPA, their nearest rival. TS, close up during the initial stages of the race, finished poorly to wind up in a third place tie with the Faculty. Strung out behind the leaders were the Schemers, AGP, DEB, ADO, the Seaside, and Delta Omega Chi.

Leading scorers in the two loops were R. Casey of KBR with 91 points and Litwak of Calvert Hall with 73 markers. Complete official figures of the leading point-getters will be announced next week.

800 Fans Look on As Fairfield Tops UB Knights 55-46

Two new, but already bitter basketball rivals, clashed when the University of Bridgeport and Fairfield University met last Friday at the local armory.

Fairfield won 55-46. Approximately 800 fans watched Fairfield's fast breaking five sink about fifty percent of its shots in the first half. They led 37-25 at intermission.

UB's Co-captain Cy Daly was high scorer for the evening with 18 points. He was followed by Fairfield's top point maker, Joe Kehoe, who tallied 16 points. Miko was third with 13 markers.

Starting Line-Up

Lew Elias, Co-captain Johnny Barron, Ed Dietrich, Fred Basquin, and Daly started the game for the Purple Knights. Coach Joe Dunn of Fairfield named Captain Micky McBride, Joe Regensburger, Miko, and Kehoe as his opening five.

During the first three or four minutes, the teams matched each other basket for basket. Then Fairfield's fast break began to click. UB was powerless as the Jesuits poured ten straight points through the hoop to take a commanding 14-6 lead.

The Glinesmen tried hard to stall the attacking forces, but they couldn't be stopped. At the 15 minute mark in the first period, Fairfield went ahead 33-18, its largest margin of the contest.

Fairfield Leads

Fairfield maintained a sizable lead at the end of the first half when they had a 13 point advantage.

After the intermission, Fairfield only scored one field goal in 11 minutes. The Park City five, however, took advantage of its opponent's drought and garnered ten markers to whittle the lead down to 39-35.

UB then came within three points of overhauling the Jesuits, but Joe Dunn's boys put on the pressure and scored 11 points to squelch the uprising and put their squad well ahead 52-38.

This barrage of points enabled Fairfield to coast the rest of the game.

Bergen Triumphs Over UB 79-60 In Season's Finale

In the second game in as many evenings, the Purple Knights dropped a 79-60 decision to Bergen College in the armory.

This game marked the closing of a not-so-successful basketball campaign for UB. It was also the last time Co-captains Cy Daly, who averaged 17 points per game this year, and Johnny Barron will wear basketball togs at UB. They graduate in June.

UB faced the best pivot man they've seen all season when it came up against Jock Taveniere. He was a tall, slim operator who was a deft ball handler with a graceful hook shot. He made the difference between a rout and a close contest.

Taveniere was the game's top scorer with 19 points. He was followed by teammates Jim Colagrosso and Vernon Scott who tallied 16 and 11 markers, respectively.

Daly Scores

As usual, Daly led the Glinesmen in scoring with 15 points. By Aubrey and Ed Dietrich followed with 11 and 12 tallies respectively.

Bergen led at half time 43-37. After Daly dunked a foul to open the scoring, UB never again took the lead or came close to catching the boys from Teaneck, N. J.

Bergen Ahead

The local lads seemed unable to muster a sustaining drive, while Bergen proceeded to tally two baskets to every one made by UB until at the ten minute mark they led 24-12.

UB managed to break through the Bergen defense every now and then but the Jerseyites managed to maintain a comfortable lead, and at the half, Bergen forged ahead seven points.

In the second session, Holub, the Bergen coach, substituted freely, UB, however, lacked sufficient reserves to match the substitutes. The locals tired and Bergen was able to score almost at will.

Bergen put together clusters of eight and 11 points during which time UB failed to tally.

Creative Group To Be Organized Here

The Creative and Cultural Groups on campus will meet in L-25 at 8 p. m. March 10, Isidore Cohen, acting president of the organization, has announced.

According to the group's constitution, its purpose is based "in the belief that there is one creative drive and only various mediums for that drive."

Plans include a record concert and cultural films to be presented in the future. Officers of the group include Isidore Cohen, president; Isidor Pomper, executive director; and David R. Williams, public relations.

Housing Shortage No Problem; UB Student Lives in Trailer

A house trailer solved Raymond Denyer's problems last September. A married veteran from Maine, and a sophomore in the Business College, he was forced to tramp about town in search of living quarters. This was not a new experience for Ray, as last year he sought and found accommodations in two cramped rooms at something like $90.00 a month.

This year's search was confined to selecting a trailer. On September 15th, he and his wife purchased one, and moved their belongings on September 20th.

Now, after six months, Ray is one hundred percent sold on trailers. Just talk to him for ten minutes and you'll soon agree he is a lot better off this year than last.

Economical Too

First, he sights the economy of trailer life. His total rent for the month comes to twenty-one dollars. This includes the 40' x 40' space rental, water and electricity.

His trailer measures twenty-three feet including a bedroom with closets and full size bed, kitchen, complete with sink, stove and electric refrigerator; and a living room with sofa, lamp, bookcase and drop leaf table.

"A lack of room?" he questioned. "We have ample facilities and room for the two of us." Indeed he was correct in saying so, for there is everything a couple would need.

No Study Problems

Studying at night presents no problem. He simply opens up the table, spreads out his books and gets down to work. His wife goes about her household duties, and can even go into the bedroom to listen to the radio so Ray can concentrate undisturbed.

The Ryder Trailer Park in Milford, where he lives, surrounds him with fellow students, also in various colleges in this vicinity. "The friendly atmosphere there", he relates, "is wonderful. We students get together and do our studies and our wives exchange recipes."

After this semester Ray has two more years to complete for his degree. His housing problems are all solved for he is well, and economically established in his home on wheels.
